The Hobbit
An Unexpected Journey
(= eine unerwartete Reise )

The hobbit Bilbo Beutlin live happily the Auenland. One day the wizard Gandalf the Grey comes to Bilbo and asks him if he wants to come with him on an exciting trip. But Bilbo prefers to live in peace and harmony as normal hobbits do. In the following evening thirteen dwarfs visit him and eat all his food. They tell him their sad story. Many years ago the cruel Dragon Smaug had stolen their famous dwarf treasure and had lived in the mountain Erebor, the old home of the dwarfs since then. At first Bilbo is afraid of the many dangers of this journey but later he follows them. Together with the wizard Gandalf they have to fight against Orks, which are cruel and ugly creatures, big spiders and hungry trolls.
While doing these adventures Bilbo learns a lot about the world outside of the Auenland and himself because he is much braver than he ever thought. During his journey Bilbo finds the magic ring of Sauron, the dark ruler. The ring was lost since thousand of years but it is still the most powerful thing that exist in their world. As long as you own the ring you can’t died but with the time it makes your character dark and bad. Desperately, tries Gollum the former owner of this ring to get the ring back. At the end of the film Bilbo can save the life of the dwarf prince Thoring. After this Thoring accepts him as a full member of the crew. The last scenes in this movie show how the dragon wakes up. In my opinion this is a fantastic movie. It has a good story and very exciting scenes.
