James Cameron makes a film whose backdrop is real but the main plot is fictional. One of the characters is Rose (Kate Winslet), a woman who comes from a rich family, and the other character is Jack Dawson (Leonardo DiCaprio), who comes from a poor family. They fall in love but on the big accident Jack dies and Rose has only a picture from her which Jack has drawn.

I think that this love story is the best of all other love stories because the film is from the real life and this makes it special. Another good thing is how they made the ship scenes and the music which everybody knows and likes.
